

Sinclair Broadcast Group's recent actions have illustrated the importance of a free press.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. Their courage in airing parts of "Stolen Honor" which gives important background on a presidential candidate that was available nowhere else, represents a "high" in journalism.

Sinclair's courageous actions show why we need to have diverse media ownership. Americans would be "in the dark" on important issues were it not so.
